

DIFFERENCE BETWEEN COMMON CARP AND THE STOCKED TRIPLOID GRASS CARP

Triploid Grass Carp

Common Carp

The major difference when looking at the carp from above is the length of the dorsal fin. The triploid grass carp has a significantly shorter fin than the common carp. There are other more subtle differences the most easily identified of which is the presence or absence of barbels around the mouth.